Mapping of International Databases / Indexes on Gender, Child Protection and VAWG

Erika Fraser and Faraz Hassan   3 August 2018

> Query: Map the internationally available databases/indexes which measure a country's rule of law, human rights record, women's rights, protection of children, victim care etc and provide details of the measures/indicators they use, how comprehensive the coverage (in terms of countries) and when latest available data for each country was collected.
>
> Purpose: This information will be used to develop a dataset/portal of information which can be used by INGOs when undertaking risk assessments around VAWG in a country context, and to guide agencies responses (in terms of reporting to criminal justice) to cases of sexual exploitation and abuse of children and members of local communities and in responding to sexual harassment by their own staff.
